RE: LML Trading and the Canadian Red Cross

To Whom It May Concern:

The Canadian Red Cross is pleased to have a partnership with LML Trading. LML Trading supports the local Canadian Red Cross through a percentage of the proceeds from donated clothing. The percentage of proceeds that have been collected from the international sale of the donated clothing articles directly benefit local programs and services like; disaster response and preparedness education, public safety information, the free loan of healthcare equipment RespectED: Violence and Abuse Prevention Education and the education of youth on important topics like international humanitarian issues.

The Canadian Red Cross fully supports LML Trading's fundraising efforts and is grateful for the support of businesses and land owners who donate their space for bin collection.
